

Viscose and Viscose Village, 1913 – American Viscose Company, makers of artificial silk came into Marcus Hook around 1910. The model village, built across the street from the factory was intended as housing for the factory workers. The Marcus Hook hotel can also be seen on the 1913 map at the corners of Tenth and Market Streets.

Viscose Calendar - 1953

Post card showing American Viscose Company

The Marcus Hook Hotel – This is after it was rebuilt. Note on the above map, a little hard to see, but the rounded alcove above the door is shown.

